

FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

LSInc's extensive and unique experience helps customers lower operating costs and increase budget effectiveness.

NAVSEA asked LSInc to investigate possible misapplications of its new construction Transportation Account Code (TAC) for shipments – which were causing unauthorized billings to NAVSEA's Shipbuilding and Conversion (SCN) appropriation. Through exhaustive research of electronic bills of lading, LSInc determined that transportation charges attributable to the refueling of nuclear vessels were incorrectly being funded by NAVSEA. By changing to the correct TAC, NAVSEA realizes a savings to their SCN appropriation of over $100K each year.

Savings like these quickly add up to dramatic gains in cost-efficiency enterprise-wide. To help you achieve these gains, LSInc provides a wide range of financial management services tailored to your specialized needs. We offer unique strengths in budget development and financial reporting, as well as life-cycle cost assessments for new weapons systems.

Major LSInc customers include the Naval Operational Logistics Support Center, Navy Financial Management Office, Naval Surface and Undersea Warfare Centers and Naval Shipyards. While LSInc's current focus is the U.S. Navy, our financial management expertise offers value to all of the service branches and the U.S. Coast Guard, in addition to other Federal, State and Local Agencies.

Cost-Saving Benefits

LSInc brings a wealth of background and experience in the areas of budgeting and financial accounting associated with military programs. This experience is acquired through years of military service from recently retired military logistics and financial specialists.

Proven results. LSInc has demonstrated its ability to meet the requirements of its financial management customers.
